Date: May 31, 2016

What is the primary reason for the acquisition?

Industry consolidation continues, and eventually, size matters. This is an opportunity to gain you, the investor, even higher value!

How will the deal affect my shares?

- Deal value is $60 per share. At closing, you will receive $51/share in cash and common stock valued at $9/share, based on the value as of close of business May 27, 2016.
- Collar locks in value of share exchange portion within +/- 7.5% movement of GXP stock price
- Significant portion of value is fixed in cash

What are the benefits of the deal?

- Locks in certain value for WR shareholder – of which a significant portion is fixed at $51/share in cash; protections on the share portion
- Meaningful continued interest ~ (15%) in larger, strong, regional energy company that results in significant dividend accretion.
- There is a straight-forward path to approval and motivation for all parties to quickly get to the finish line.

What are the risks of the deal?

- While there is a straight-forward path to approval, we need both companies' shareholders, KCC, FERC, and NRC to approve, as well as an anti-trust review to be completed.
- $380 million reverse break-up fee in favor of Westar if regulatory disapproves or issues an unfavorable order
- Fiduciary break-up fee: $180 million in favor of Westar, if Great Plains breaks agreement
- $80 million of protection in favor of Westar, if Great Plains shareholders don't approve

What do you think of the new company?

- Happy to be a part of the new combined company that now has the advantage of economies of scale (purchasing power, growth outlook, ....)

Why didn't this acquisition happen earlier?

This type of competitive process takes significant time and attention.
