* The sole purpose of this filing is to correct a typographical error in a previous filing under Schedule 14A pursuant to Exchange Act Rule 14a-12 made on April 23, 1996. This filing correctly reflects the text of an advertisement published on April 23, 1996, which states that the current annual dividend paid by Western Resources, Inc. is $2.06, not $2.96 as was stated in the April 23, 1996 filing.

Message Points
4/22/96

- o Today's KCPL action confirms we have a better offer.
 - KCPL did not and could not challenge that.
 - KCPL shareholders get a substantial dividend increase and premium for stock.
 - Customers in Kansas City get greater rate reductions.
 - For KCPL and Western employees there will be no layoffs.
 - The Community does not lose a corporate citizen, but gains:
 - * KCPL
 - * Western
 - * Subsidiary
- o How come KCPL doesn't see it? Because they wouldn't meet with us.

- o This is a deal we are backing up with facts: We can walk the talk.
 - We have the detailed analysis
 - We have the track record of hitting savings, rate reduction and no layoff targets in a previous major merger.
- o The Western Resources board has voted to move forward with a plan to combine the two companies by taking the facts directly to shareholders.
 - Shortly after noon today, we filed the necessary papers with the Securities and Exchange Commission to go directly to KCPL shareholders and ask them to vote against the proposed UtiliCorp merger so that we can combine with KCPL.
 - Western Resources' proxy solicitation materials will be mailed within the next ten days.
 - Western Resources is also filing exchange offer materials with the SEC and we intend to make our offer directly to shareholders of KCPL as soon as our registration statement has been declared effective by the SEC -- normally about 30 to 60 days.
- o If I understand KCPL's statement, if we can prove our offer is solid, we have got a deal.

-- So let's get the process started.

o Savings

-- First, let me point out the savings were developed by Deloitte and Touche, who hit the savings on the nose when we acquired KG&E.

-- The earlier savings estimates were preliminary, about a year ago and for a shorter period of time. Since then, we have done a detailed analysis with Deloitte & Touche and have verified those numbers against their regulatory filings and their recent proxy statement.

-- (Savings breakdown)

o Layoffs

-- KCPL says there have to be layoffs. In fact, they are telling their employees today that our offer means the loss of 500 jobs. That is wrong and it is wrong to employ such scare tactics.

-- I commit to you, to our employees and to the KCPL employees that no one will lose their job as a result of this combination.

-- We promised no layoffs in the KG&E acquisition. We made good on our promise.

-- Positions may be eliminated, but the people in those positions will be offered jobs in the many growing parts of our company. No individual will lose his or her job. . . period.

o Financial strength

- It is odd KCPL questions the financial strength of combining with an A-minus rating, while pursuing a merger with a much lower BBB company.
- The same Standard and Poor's report cited today by KCPL speaks favorably on our merger with KCPL.
- The same report also puts KCPL on a credit watch because of negative implications of its merger with UtiliCorp.
- Western Resources has not had to write off millions in bad investments. UtiliCorp has written off $120 million since 1992 in poor investments.

o Business vision

- Our vision works. We know and understand the markets we enter and how to make long term growth out of these investments.

- We have entered the changing marketplace thoughtfully and successfully, with key investments focused on industries that offer synergies and long term growth.
 - * Westar -- we are the largest marketer of wholesale power in our region. We market gas in 13 states.
 - * Wing Group -- the premier developer of independent power projects worldwide.
 - * ADT -- 24 percent interest in the nation's largest provider of monitored home security.
 - This vision is not dependent on acquiring KCPL. But, it is in the interest of shareholders, customers and employees not to pass on this opportunity. We have a growth business plan independent of this acquisition that has been consistently effective. This acquisition complements our business plan.
- o We are taking these facts in detail directly to the shareholders.
- We are asking them to vote against the UtiliCorp plan. Unless they vote against it, they will not be given the opportunity to review our program and combine with Western Resources.
 - We don't take this lightly. If the numbers weren't there in such a dramatic fashion, we would not be taking this step, period.

- Our offer has better dividends for the shareholders, customers, employees and community.

Western Resources Disappointed by KCPL's Response, Prepares to Solicit KCPL Shareholders

"We are extremely disappointed that we were not given an opportunity to meet with the Kansas City Power & Light board to present our offer," said John E. Hayes, Jr., Western Resources chairman of the board and chief executive officer. Hayes made the statement in response to today's announcement by the KCPL board of directors declining Western Resources' merger offer.

"The terms of a Western Resources/KCPL merger are clearly financially superior to those proposed by UtiliCorp. We are convinced that given an opportunity to fully understand our offer, the KCPL board would have concluded that it is depriving its shareholders of the benefits of a better deal -- an increased dividend, a better price, and greater financial strength for the future," said Hayes. "We continue to welcome the opportunity to discuss our offer with KCPL's board."

The Western Resources board of directors met following the action by KCPL and unanimously authorized the company to move forward with a plan to combine the two companies.

"After a week of consideration, we thought KCPL's board would recognize that the dollar opportunities for shareholders, customers, employees and the community are simply too great to ignore," said Hayes. "We must pursue all avenues to bring about a Western Resources/KCPL merger. Therefore, we will go directly to KCPL shareholders and ask them to vote against the proposed merger of UtiliCorp and KCPL."

Western Resources' proxy solicitation materials are being filed today with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and will be mailed shortly. Western Resources also is filing today exchange offer materials with the SEC and intends to make its offer directly to shareholders of KCPL as soon as its registration statement has been declared effective by the SEC.

On April 14, Western Resources offered to merge with KCPL in a tax-free transaction offering increased annual dividends for KCPL shareholders, a premium over market price for KCPL common shares, earnings improvement for Western Resources and KCPL shareholders, and lower rates for customers, all without any employee layoffs.

"Our initial review of the KCPL board's decision to reject our offer indicates a general lack of understanding on their part of both Western Resources and our proposal. We will be responding in detail very shortly," said Hayes. "We believe once KCPL shareholders review our materials, they, too, will conclude that we're offering the better merger for everyone involved."

Employee Update

April 23, 1996

To address questions frequently asked by Western Resources employees, an employee telephone line-STARLINE- has been implemented. Employees are encouraged to call 1-800-621-4282 or, from your work location, call 913-575-8180. Please leave your name and location for the fastest reply. The following questions and answers summarize the recent activities of STARLINE:

Q: Why do you believe the KCPL board of directors rejected your offer? You've said it's superior. Why didn't they endorse it?

A: Unfortunately, we were not given an opportunity to sit down with the KCPL board of directors and explain the benefits of our offer. We continue to believe that if we'd been given that chance, KCPL would have found our offer financially superior.

Q: Western Resources is filing both proxy material and exchange material. Can you explain what exchange material is and how KCPL shareowners should respond?

A: The proxy material that will be sent to KCPL shareowners within the next seven to 10 days urges KCPL shareowners to vote AGAINST a UtiliCorp/KCPL merger. The subsequent exchange material -- which should be mailed within the next 30 to 60 days, pending SEC approval -- will explain the details and the benefits of a Western Resources/KCPL merger, and request that KCPL shareowners "exchange" their KCPL shares in a tax-free, stock-for-stock swap with Western Resources stock. At this time, KCPL shareholders are not being asked to take any action on the exchange offer.

Q: If I'm a KCPL shareholder and I've already sent my proxy in with a FOR vote, how do I cancel my vote now that I know Western Resources has put a better merger offer on the table?

A: The only way to have a chance to consider a Western Resources/KCPL merger is to vote AGAINST a UtiliCorp/KCPL merger. If shareholders already have voted FOR the UtiliCorp/KCPL merger, all shareholders need to do is vote AGAINST the UtiliCorp/KCPL merger with the new proxy card in the proxy information Western Resources will be sending in the next seven to 10 days. The proxy with the most recent date is all that matters.

Q: Can you discuss Western Resources' business strategy? How does it complement KCPL and benefit all shareowners.

A: Western Resources is the same kind of energy company in which KCPL shareowners invested. We are strong on operations, strong on cost control, and we provide excellent customer service with a healthy mix of thoughtful, controlled growth. We're getting ready for market place changes the right way. If you like KCPL, you'll love Western Resources.

Q: We've noticed there is a lot of legal terminology attached to the Employee Update, news releases, and documents on our Internet site. Can you explain what this is and what it means?

A: The legal terminology is called a "legend." Because Western Resources is in a period of soliciting KCPL proxies, or asking KCPL shareholders to vote AGAINST the proposed Utilicorp/KCPL merger, we must attach a "legend" to all public documents. The legend lists the identity of the participants in our solicitation and a description of their interest and/or their holdings of KCPL stock. Yesterday, we filed our proxy and exchange offer materials with the SEC. Once the SEC grants us permission to proceed, which is expected in the next seven to 10 days, the legend will no longer be attached to public documents.
